INSPIRING CHILDREN

We will inspire children and young people in Scarborough to enjoy their learning, grow confidence, critical thinking skills, improve attainment and celebrate their academic achievements. Alongside this, we'll support and develop a cohort of participatory freelance artists, boosting the skills in our region and building a legacy for future work.

DEVELOPING CREATIVITY

KIT Theatre will lead creative delivery in mainstream primary schools using their award-winning Adventures in Learning model: immersive theatre erupting in classrooms and cultural venues to deliver learning and develop creativity. Associate artists, including Rebecca Denniff of Flash Company Arts and Touretteshero, bring their experience of inclusive practice to the project.

SUPPORTING TEACHERS

We'll support each school to develop its own arts-based learning programme responding to their needs, built around the Adventures in Learning model. The funding also includes resources for the development of bespoke teacher training and development.

PROVIDING RESOURCES

We will use Scarborough Museums and Galleries venues, collections and resources to support immersive learning. Core themes are the environment, diversity and the celebration of differences.

WHAT'S AN ADVENTURE IN LEARNING?

Adventures begin when a character unexpectedly makes contact with pupils. Characters present a problem which only pupils can solve, leading them to abandon normal lessons and embark on a mission which just-so-happens to connect with their current curriculum topic. All adventures include literacy and oracy challenges and opportunities for pupils to explore empathy and critical thinking. The characters and quests at the heart of New Shores will be inspired by Scarborough Museums and Galleries.

Sample adventures include:

- Alien Egg: Pupils' challenge is to become teachers to the innocently mischievous alien who hatches unexpectedly from a giant egg they discover on the school grounds. [EYFS/KS1]
- Inept Archaeologists: Pupils explore topics such as Stone/Bronze/Iron Age, Romans or Anglo Saxons & Vikings alongside well-meaning but under-qualified archaeologists who are keen to impress with their knowledge. [KS2]
